

1958 Wexford Bridge

1960 Tarbert Power Station, Kerry

1960 Irish Steel, Cork

1965 Whiddy Island, Cork

1970 Irish Cement, Limerick

1978 Talbot Memorial Bridge, Dublin

1980 Ringakiddy Deep Water Berth, Cork

1984 Custom House Bridge, Cork

1985 Moneypoint Power Station, Clare

1987 Opera House Bridge, Cork

1990 Micro Processing Plant, Leixlip, Kildare

1994 National Basketball Arena, Dublin

1995 Ferry Terminal, Dun Laoghaire, Dublin

1998 Douglas Estuary Interchange & Bridges, Cork

2000 Millennium Bridge, Dublin

2000 Farmleigh House, Dublin

2001 N9/N7 Newbridge Bypass, Kildare

2003 Gas Pipeline to the West (Leinster) Connaught

2003 National Aquatic Centre, Dublin

2004 Takeda Pharma, Dublin

2006 Cork Airport Development

2006 Cork County Hall Development & Fit-out

2008 Luas Depot Red Cow, Dublin

2008 Ascon & Rohcon renamed as BAM Contractors

2009 River Suir Bridge N25 Waterford Bypass PPP

2009 Western Building UCC, Cork

2010 NPRO St James' & Beaumont Hospitals, Dublin

2010 Engineering Building, NUI Galway

2011 Cill Ronain Harbour, Aran Islands

2011 BAM and Heineken Ireland granted planning permission for the Beamish & Crawford Event Centre, Cork

2012 Zenimax Fit-out, Galway

building a better Ireland for over fifty years...

- Established in 1958
 - 54 years construction excellence
 - 2500 successfully completed projects
- Offices:
Kill, Cork, Dublin, Galway, Waterford, Belfast

- Recent Activity
- 93 FDI Hi-tech Projects
 - 40 FDI Clients
 - 39 Hospitals/Healthcare
 - 41 Educational Facilities
 - 10 Major Swimming Pools
 - 29 Retail Developments
 - 24 Major Road Schemes
 - 294 kms National Roads
 - 317 Bridge Structures
 - 80 Marine Projects
 - 46 Water/ Wastewater Facilities
 - 19 Energy Projects
 - 15 Rail Projects

BAM - established as Ascon in 1958 and renamed in 2008 - continues to construct strategic developments and infrastructure successfully throughout Ireland. A leader in safety and environmental management, it is financially strong with a committed professional management team. Using local expertise yet harnessing global experience, it continues to deliver innovative quality projects on time and within budget for its FDI and domestic clients.